Second Pesach - Second Chance!

"Hashem spoke to Moshe in the Sinai desert, in the second year of the Exodus from Egypt, in the first month, saying, let the children of Israel make the Pesach sacrifice at its proper time. And there were men who were impure, due to contact with a dead man, and they could not make the Pesach sacrifice on that day, and they came before Moses and Aharon on that day. They said to him, we are impure due to contact with a dead man; why are we worse, that we should not bring a sacrifice before Hashem in its time, amongst the children of Israel?" [Bamidbar 9:1-7].

The Talmud in Masechet Sukkah determines that these individuals were involved in the burial of a "Met Mitzvah" - a dead body with no one else to bury it. Doing the final act of kindness for such an individual takes precedence even over the Pesach sacrifice, so they took this task upon themselves even though it would render them impure and unable to fulfill the later Mitzvah.

As a result, we learn about the laws of "Second Pesach" - a "second chance" to offer the Pesach sacrifice one month later - in response to these men. Although we should have learned these laws directly through Moshe, like every other case, the merits of these individuals caused the laws of "Second Pesach" to be taught for all generations in conjunction with their story.

"It's never too late. There's always a second chance." This, according to Rabbi Yosef Yitzchak Schneersohn (the sixth Lubavitcher Rebbe, 1880–1950), is the very relevant message of Pesach Sheni, the biblically ordained "Second Passover" for those who fail to bring the Passover offering on its designated time.

And there is another aspect of the story, which I think is also relevant: the self-sacrifice that was involved. Those people who performed the burial knew that they would miss the first-ever sacrifice commemorating the Pesach, which had taken place just the year before. And yet they did the burial - a kindness for an individual who would show no gratitude, and who had no known relatives who would offer thanks on his behalf. This level of generosity, of interest in others even at their own expense, was one of the merits that caused their story to be recorded for all eternity.

Shabbat Shalom!

Rabbi Bar
